57	Approaching Coaching	Mercy, Mounthawk	Kerry	Sports Coaching made simple
58	Handy Hose		Tipperary	An innovative Hose Holder which attaches via a magnet to the side wall (reduces the amount of bending up and down typically done by a dairy farmer during milking) of the milking parlour which means the hose is off the floor. (health and safety) it moves along the length of the parlour as the farmer milks each section of cows (time saving)
59	What About Me	Dunmore Community School	Galway	Production of a resource for the siblings of people with special needs to create an awareness. They wrote & produced a booklet in the voice of the sibling to help them understand their feelings and emotions. It can also be used by parents & teachers to start a conversation on the challenges & difficulties that families may experience. The booklet is based on real life family experiences.
60	Cor Environmental	Loreto Community School	Donegal	The team marketed and sold metal drinking straws. They also used their platform to articulate a strong message about plastic overuse and its links to global warming
61	Atlantic Beauty	St. Joseph's Spanish Point	Clare	Sustainable and organic lip balms and bath bombs
62	Being Natural	Lacken Cross School	Mayo	Biodegradable Beeswax food wraps that are an environmentally friendly alternative to clingfilm and tinfoil.
63	Seafield Forge Stud	Summerhill College	Sligo	SeaField Forge Equine Stud: Sligo TY Liam Gilligan's childhood business dream was sparked by a business teacher, SEP structure and mentoring: Resulting in a careful strategy, an investor pitch, and the purchase of an in-foal Mare, 'Jeremy's Joy': A Champagne Racehorse for Lemonade money!
64	Bee Dynamite	St. Aidan's CBS	Dublin City	With a view to reversing the decline in the global bee population, the students were inspired by a traditional Japanese farming technique. They created moulded balls of earth, flour and seeds that can be easily thrown into nature and which will start breaking down into the earth and germinating. A simple, fun and effective way to bring wildflowers and bees back to Ireland, these students took the top spot by looking at a global issue and developing a local solution.
65	PLOTS	Scoil Mhuire, Trim	Meath	Homemade & sustainable wooden pot plants with an indoor succulent or cactus
